

BORGES is a family company with over 120 years of history. She believes that business success comes from the values on which it is based - values that are nurtured by each succeeding generation. Values such as dedication, hard work, enthusiasm, and honesty. As well as the love of the land, and belief in the usefulness of the Mediterranean diet as a way of eating. BORGES is focused on two of the main pillars - olive oil and nuts. The unique combination of strong traditions and intelligent innovation makes the company one of the main promoters of the Mediterranean diet worldwide, with a presence in more than 96 countries on five continents.
